Marzia has missed a lot of school recently and her parents are very worried about her. She is sleeping a lot more than normal, but constantly feels tired. On days when she does not og to school. Marzia spends most of her time in bed, not even getting up to eat regularly. When her parents try to talk to Marzia about how she is feeling, she usually ends up in tears and says she just feels so sad all the time.

	Her parents take her to see the doctor, who says MArzia is showing some symptoms of depression.
	Using your knowledge of unipolar depression, explain why Marzia's symptoms might lead her doctor to think she is suffering from depression.
	Submit on GC using Google Docs or Word (Google Classroom)
